Thank You for Your Support

Dear NEF Supporters,

The Newburyport Education Foundation (NEF) was formed 10 years ago to bring philanthropy to the Newburyport Public Schools and to help make our public schools “excellent.” Through the end of 2012 the NEF has donated more than $2 million in resources for technology, literacy, and more thanks to the support of our donors. The list of items the NEF has funded is impressive and touches all grade levels across the district. Together we are making a difference, and the role we play in supporting the Newburyport Public Schools is more important than ever.

Expanding and deepening our working connections with the greater Newburyport business community is also a major focus for the NEF. The NEF Business Coalition funded 22 partnership grants for the 2012–2013 academic year. That’s a 41 percent increase over last year and a demonstration of the support and increased value our educators are finding in our efforts to engage the business community in support of public education.

Please take the time to learn more about our accomplishments over the last 10 years and specifically 2012, which have been possible because of our donors and supporters highlighted throughout this report. Thank you to all our donors, alumni class agents, Business Partners, and volunteers who help make all of these efforts possible. We have much more to do in the coming years, but together we can truly continue to make a difference. Call or e-mail anytime.

Sincerely,

Jeff Gray

Our Mission

To bring philanthropy into the Newburyport Public Schools—generating financial resources to enhance the quality of public education throughout the school system.

2012 Accomplishments and Highlights

With some major accomplishments this year, the 2011–2013 Campaign continues to have a strategic impact across the district. A big thanks to our generous donors!

Opening of the Institution for Savings Library and Media Center

With the robust wireless system in place at the high school in 2011, the school was poised to exploit this technology to enhance learning. In 2012 our community came together for a tremendous transformation. The outdated high school library was transformed into the state-of-the-art Institution for Savings Library and Media Center. Through its charitable foundation, the Institution for Savings donated $100,000 to transform the library into a media-rich hub for research and collaboration. The Mary Alice Arakelian Foundation donated $45,000 to support the furnishings for the library. The NHS Class of 1953 donated $8,000 to purchase an iPad cart and iPads. This project involved numerous additional donors, countless volunteers, and dedicated school members. Library usage has skyrocketed, and teachers across all disciplines continue to add projects now possible with the new tools in the library, especially the new Mac lab and iPads. The library is now a bustling hub of student activity and requests have already come from students for more technology.

Addition of the Strem Chemicals Inc. Robotics Lab

The R.A. Nock Middle School also welcomed an exciting new addition. A generous donation of $60,000 from Strem Chemicals, Inc. funded the hardware and software needed for a new state-of-the-art robotics program. Now students in 8th grade study the principles of mechanical engineering, electronics, and computer programming as they design, build, and mobilize remote control and autonomous robots. This new program also prepares them for more advanced courses at the high school.

Nooks at Nock: Technology Renewal and Upgrades

Technology enhancements in 2012 also included the donation of Nook e-readers for the middle school library. The Discovering History program, which pairs 7th grade students with an adult to read a historical fiction novel, will especially benefit from this latest technology thanks to the NEF. The donation of 28 Nooks and related equipment, at a cost of $3,500, is making reading about history even more appealing for tech-savvy readers and their partners.

Continued Support for Literacy and Classroom Libraries Grades K–8

Ongoing support of literacy in grades K-8 continued with the donation of $20,000 to build classroom libraries. These graded reading materials add nonfiction works required for the new standards and help the schools teach literacy in exciting ways in the comprehensive literacy program.

Business Coalition

Since 1990, the Business Coalition, formerly the NEBC, has been collaborating to enrich our schools' curricular objectives through activities such as developing and funding business Partnership Grants, internships, classroom speaking engagements, involvement in school projects, events, company site visits, and more.

During the 2012–2013 school year, motivated businesses and teachers came together once again to create some amazing learning experiences for our students funded by 22 Partnership Grants ($34,000). Please read the 2012–2013 Partnership Grant booklet to learn more. We also funded the Book Bag program at the elementary school ($2,000), the Technology Club at the high school ($10,000), and the Gulf of Maine Institute program at the middle and high schools ($1,500).

Institution for Savings Science Speaker Series

The Institution for Savings (IFS) Science Speaker Series creates opportunities for teachers to bring additional resources in (and out) of their classrooms at all grade levels. The program empowers teachers to think “outside the box” and request funds for speakers or experiences that will engage students in science.

In 2012, the IFS Science Speaker Series funded science magazines for all middle school classrooms. Well-respected periodicals such as National Geographic and Science Illustrated not only engage students in science but also help them to analyze structure, distinguish facts, and develop relevant background knowledge.

Also funded was an exciting field trip for all kindergarten students aboard the Captain's Lady (operated by Rob and Kate Yeomans) where they saw wildlife, explored changes around the river, and saw how the river flows into the ocean.

Brown School students benefited from an exciting new portable science cart, and a science coach modeled lessons and helped teachers master fresh ideas for teaching science at the Molin School.

At the elementary level, presentations with the Ipswich River Wildlife Sanctuary taught students about how owls are silent hunters, how they adapt, and their importance in the food chain. Additionally, Dr. Emerson Baker made his 5th annual visit with the 7th graders to discuss the science of archaeology.

Thanks to ongoing support from the IFS, it has been another wonderful year of exposing students to the world outside the classroom.

Clipper Connection Alumni Connection

In 2012, alumni from classes 1938 through 1996 donated generously to the NEF. In response to a class challenge made to all alumni in 2011, NHS alumni donated twice as much as in 2011. The Class of 1953 raised the greatest amount, followed by the Class of 1943 and the Class of 1983.

More than 300 of our donors are alumni and we greatly value their support of their alma mater. NEF Class Agents are volunteers who help us to connect with NHS alumni, assist with our annual alumni appeal, plan reunion tours of the high school, and share information through the Clipper Connection on our website. For more information, visit www.NewburyportEF.org/alumni.

Ten Years of Enhancing Public Education

Eight state-of-the-art science labs let students learn by doing in all domains of science. New microscopes and digital probes engage students in the scientific process with the use of “real-world” tools.

Collaborations between businesses, teachers, and students improve students' readiness for work and college.

Middle-schoolers are inspired to pursue studies in technical fields and to advance to higher levels in the high school robotics program.

Partnership Grants enrich all grade levels.

Wireless access unleashed a burst of creative energy around technology tools and the role of media—leading to the transformation of the high school library and more.

Reading about history got a little more exciting with the addition of e-readers to the Discovering History program for 7th graders. Students can't wait to get their hands on the e-readers and, once engaged, it's even harder for them to put the e-book down.

Now the bustling hub of the high school, the library media center provides students the best resources to research, write, collaborate, create, and present. In 8 months, the library has had more than 44,000 student visits (that's 25,275 more than last year). On average, 325 students use the library media center every day.
